From FUNDing to BUILDing

The Food Shed Co-op Board of Directors voted to proceed to the BUILD stage of the cooperative grocery store at its' December board meeting. With the Community Investment Campaign \(CIC\) wrapping up on November 30th, the numbers showed that the campaign was only $48,000 shy of it's $1.75M investment goal!

Although the campaign came up a little short the board believes it can raise the remaining dollars (and more) through additional investments, community sources, and other still-to-be announced opportunities! The board also announced that it was finalizing the General Manager search process - AND has chosen an architectural firm to work with the co-op's store design group seven roots.

CIC project manager Doug Close (in speaking of the TIMELINE for opening the store) cautioned that existing supply-chain and construction materials shortages are still a factor in getting the store built and open by the Fall of 2022.
